

We're looking for out-of-school, Baltimore City youth, 16 to 21 years of age for a new program called Bridge to Career Success.

What may I expect if I join?

Caring adults from YO! Baltimore will help you set attainable, career and educational goals, as well as create a realistic individual opportunity plan. You will receive job readiness classes, learn how to have healthy relationships and important life skills like budgeting to support your personal goals. You'll receive physical and mental health services, GED classes and support for college. You'll gain career preparation and work experience. Training in this program will focus on industries that are hiring now such as:

- Green Collar/Environmental jobs;
- Healthcare
- Retail Sales (including the National Retail Foundation Customer Service Certification).

These services won't cost you or your caregiver anything.

How do I sign up?

Call Ms. Cheryl Horton at 443-423-5123 and she'll arrange for you to have a tour and orientation session. When you complete this tour you'll receive a gift.

What's required?

You'll be at the YO! Baltimore Center five days a week taking workshops, trainings, classes and trips. In eight weeks, you'll make choices about where you need to invest your time—in career training or earning credits toward your diploma. You'll be able to earn, learn and become a success.

The Youth Opportunity Bridge to Career Success is a partnership between the Mayor's Office of Employment Development, Baltimore City Department of Social Services (BCDSS), the Department of Human Resources and the Department of Labor Licensing and Regulation.
